LETTER TO A BOY IN COLLEGE

because he is not a quack and cannot honestly peddle false hopes. The real idealist is like Christ hanging on a cross between two thieves. He is deemed wicked in the eyes of modern man. What is called "idealism" today has been taken over one hundred per cent by quacks. This lying jackass who held the peace rally on your campus is a fair sample. He claims to be able to conjure "peace" with his black magic, but his policies are exactly those which will lead to war; and not only to war, but to DEFEAT in war. He advocates a policy of weakness, compromise, and surrender. Real peace has never been made of such shoddy stuff. His words may sound glibly seductive to inexperienced youngsters, but he is a type easily recognizable to us weary and battered old men who have seen the wickedness of the wide world. He is a suicidal utopian. He is leading you down the pathways of destruction, of defeat, extinction, and oblivion. Unhappily, he also represents the same sort of policies as the men who have ruled this country for forty years.

Won Arabs Hatred

Let us consider the disasters which have happened to us in the year 1967 alone. During the month of June our mass media were full of tall tales about the great victory of Israel against the Arabs. "Our side" had won. But WHAT had we won? Among other things, we won the undying hatred of the Arabs. We lost the Middle East. We lost our West European alliances for good. DURING THE SUMMER OF 1967, WE SUFFERED A MAJOR MILITARY DISASTER. If we had sent our armies overseas, and they had been wiped out in a major military disaster, we would know that we had lost. Unhappily, the wider American public, beguiled by the Jewish press, has no idea of the magnitude of the disaster which we have suffered in 1967.

The best way to understand what we have lost is to see what Russia has gained. The Mediterranean Sea is rapidly becoming a Russian lake. The power which the French and British formerly exercised in the Middle East has melted away, leaving a power vacuum; Russia has moved in and filled that vacuum. Because of our folly of supporting Zionism, United States influence has dwindled to zero. Russia wants to have naval bases at Alexandria and other points on the North African coast. Russia wants to drive the U.S. Sixth Fleet from the Mediterranean. Above all else, Russia wants to encircle Western Europe from the south. Marxism is, in the intellectual sense, a fading star and its influence is declining in the world. Still, I would not be surprised to see communist revolutions in a couple more countries, Greece and Spain. Russia has stepped up the pressure on Greece and Spain. Momentarily, Greece has been saved from a Communist take-over by a military coup. Nevertheless, Russia wants Spain and Greece very badly, not to "spread communism," but because they fit in with her strategy of encircling Europe from the south. Marx has been subordinated to Clausewitz and Mackinder. "Whoever controls the world island controls the world," Mackinder said. Russia's purpose is to eliminate U.S. influence from the Eurasian land mass. This Russian policy has now, for all practical purposes, accomplished its purpose. We no longer have a real foothold in western Europe. There is a tendency to blame this upon the nefarious schemes of other people or nations; actually, the blame belongs to official Washington. DeGaulle is blamed for taking France out of NATO; but DeGaulle is simply a man who knows folly when he sees it, and he has no confidence in the folly of official Washington today.

Today everybody else in the world is playing a game called realpolitik. The United States alone is playing a stupid game worthy of a crowd of idiot children. In order to support the Jewish folly of Zionism, we have thrown away our last chance to become a world leader. We have justified our follies by promulgating strange myths and legends. We claim to be supporting something called "free enterprise" against "collectivism." We claim to support "freedom" against "tyranny." We claim to be a country in which "dissent" is encouraged. In fact, New York City is the real intellectual capitol of world socialism; our society has devised the most effective control mechanism in the world; and the "dissent" which you hear about is carried on chiefly by stooges of the intellectual establishment. A REAL dissenter simply disappears into obscurity and you never hear of him at all.

Marx and Freud Myths

The myths which have destroyed us are the myths which the Jews introduced among us, the myths of Marx and Freud. These myths form a complex booby-trap which has destroyed the character of the nation, corrupted national policy, and endangered our very existence. We have failed to cope with these myths, chiefly because they offer temptations to which we have succumbed. Certainly the right winger does not believe in Marxism; nevertheless, it offers him seductive temptations. It gives him a good excuse to hate the poor of his own race. Lured by the siren-song of class-hatred, he crashes onto the political rocks. When he is thus politically shipwrecked, the Jews take over the political power which the right winger formerly exercised. The right winger is "channelized" and steered expertly to his doom. All controversy which is polarized between "right" and "left" is spurious. It is not a matter of one side "losing" and the other side "winning." The same people control both sides at the top. The true believers are in the lower ranks, while cynics run the top level. The Jews know that you can't lose if you control both sides.

Our national attitude toward communism is much like our attitude toward organized crime. We are always organizing "crime commissions" which allegedly are going to wipe out organized crime. None of these commissions ever do anything. Everybody over the age of ten knows that the big-shot gangsters are really a part of the ruling political establishment, and are untouchable. They provide us with vices which we sanctimoniously deplore and eagerly patronize, such as gambling and prostitution. Likewise, we deplore communism, and always pretend that we are going to wipe it out the day after tomorrow. We will do no such thing. Actually, we protect communism as carefully as we protect gambling and prostitution, and for the same reason. It represents our hidden vices, about which we prefer to be hypocrites. It is an intellectual lever which is used to organize technological collectivism under the guise of "free enterprise." It is a useful managerial instrument, a great political weapon, and the biggest collection of lies ever manufactured by man. The biggest capitalists in the world have used it eagerly for a hundred years, and have always blamed it on the poor.

Hoover Outranked

We are led to believe that some sweet day, J. Edgar Hoover will arrest the Marxist subversives and put them out of business. He will never do any such thing. Hoover is a good cop, but the big-time Marxists outrank him. He cannot walk into the big banks of New York, which advanced hundreds of millions of dollars to bring off the October revolution in Russia, and arrest them. He would be fired, like any other cop who gets above himself. The bankers would be able to prove that they have broken no laws. If the law does not suit them they can have the law changed. The great fraud in our controversies about Marxism is the pretense that Marxism boils up from the lower levels of society, when in fact it originated and has always been supported at the VERY TOP levels of our society. Marxism does not represent the rebellion of the lower class; it represents the nihilism of the upper class, especially the Jewish upper class.

As a nation, we do not want the real truth about either organized crime or communism. We want a comfortable lie to live by. Today the myths by which we live have become so far separated from reality that they are dangerous to us.

Today the ideological war is really over. Nobody except the United States takes it seriously any more. The war of mere ideas is finished and the struggle for bare survival in an overcrowded world has begun. This struggle is by its very nature a MILITARY struggle. It is a struggle between rival power centers, whose ideological organization is a purely secondary consideration. If Russia were a capitalist nation, for example, it would make no real difference whatsoever. Some of the bitterest wars in history have been fought between capitalist nations. There is no international capitalist utopia, any more than there is an international Marxist utopia. Utopianism always represents unreality, and it is the great tragedy of today's world that quack utopianism has so badly damaged contemporary culture. The materialist cynic may think that culture is unimportant; but the growing nihilism of our time is a force which can reach inside the great industrial establishments and stop the wheels from turning. Our advanced technological civilization is the fruit of a thousand years of cultural and spiritual development; it can exist only in a favorable cultural atmosphere. Today the general level of culture and morality has sunk below an acceptable level for the support of an advanced technological civilization. This aspect of growing primitivism may further impair the ability of an overcrowded world to support itself, and thus act as an added factor leading to war.

It is a characteristic of the Jewish ideologies of Marxism and Freudianism that these ideas tend to dominate even their enemies. This is one of the great secrets of success of Jewish power-grabbing. Marxism tends to dominate the rightist, no less than the leftist. If you believe in economic determinism, it makes little difference whether you are on the right or the left. Some rightists are actually more obsessed with Marxism than the big-time communists. I have known many big-shot communists around the world, and I have never known a real big-shot communist who really believed in Marxism. They are in the business of manufacturing beliefs for other people, especially for the sucker trade, and no quack ever really believes in his own quackery. The quack must know himself to be a fraud; he cannot be merely a "mistaken" man, because then he would no longer be a competent quack. Nobody is more cynical about Marxism than the big-shot communists. Yet all the time I meet right wingers who seriously believe, or claim to believe, that Marxism is a great, dynamic movement of the world's masses, which threatens to engulf decent bourgeois folk. I have mentioned before that a strong possibility exists of communist revolutions in Spain and Greece. These revolutions are promoted simply as part of Russia's nationalistic military strategy, and not as part of an "international revolution of the proletariat." Russia wants to turn the Mediterranean Sea into a Russian lake and to encircle Western Europe from the south. This is NOT in accordance with Marxist principles, but rather with classic GEOPOLITIK. In other words, Russia is playing a really smart game, while we are living in a dream world.

CIA Accused In French Unrest

RABAT, Morocco, May 28 (Reuters).—The Central Intelligence Agency of the United States and international Zionism were responsible for the violent disorder in France, the Morocco opposition daily newspaper l'Opinion said Tuesday.

It alleged the CIA used subversive activities through European student organizations to overthrow governments, and this method was being used in France because of President Charles de Gaulle's "anti-Americanism."
